

Life is about being connected. We come into this world with an urgent need for connection with someone. Our inability to provide for ourselves puts us at the mercy of those who would care for, and love us. As we grow and mature most will obtain the necessary skills to become independent of these early providers but never in our lives do we reach a time of total disconnect.

Life is about connection. How we acknowledge these bonds and flourish within them has a lot to say about who we are. This speaks directly to our ability to develop spiritually. The most vital life line we possess is our connection with our creator. Manufactured by the divine, we are not only equipped with the ability to connect, but we come out of the box hardwired with an immensely strong drive to do just that. What then prevents many from connecting with their God? . . . Intervention!

The God of this world, which scripture calls Satan or the devil has laid the foundations for a reality which would seek to exist without acknowledging the Holy Creator God. This ruler-man's adversary intervenes in our existence, seeking to begin us on a diet of straight "world" immediately, if not sooner. Indoctrinated we fall in step and can easily turn our backs on the possibility of a creator who loves us and desires a personal connection.

Thankfully though, our God is above any other power and makes it possible for His voice to be heard over all the misleading noise. But hearing requires listening, followed by a step of faith off the false foundation.

Are you ready to experience the depth of “Divine connection”?

Life is about being connected!

— Dale