

Our identity as God's beloved children embraces both who we are and who we are becoming. We are infinitely loved! We are, with all our vastly varied gifts, being renewed in the divine image, and we bear this image back into the world. We each do this in our own way a thousand different ways, indeed a million ways and infinitely more. Our core identity comes with particular gifts. Unique gifts and graces are an expression of God's personal love for us, a confirmation of our belovedness. No two of us act, think, or serve alike. And God's love sets each one of us wholly free, free to be ourselves and free to be for others the image of the loving God. The Way of Discernment
I have personally observed and experienced in the past week, church families whose love and compassion seemed to be without limit! To them, I would like to say thank you for allowing God's love to flow freely and abundantly without hesitation! God bless you! Dale
